

The Cancer Resource Center

A Unique Resource
Dedicated to Serving the Needs of Cancer
Patients and their Families and Friends

A joint effort of the University of Chicago Cancer Research Center and the American Cancer Society, the Resource Center is committed to helping individuals impacted by cancer overcome the many daily challenges associated with the disease.

The Cancer Resource Center
is open from 9am until 5pm on weekdays

For information or assistance, please call 773-702-9900 or visit us at the Resource Center, which is in the lobby of the Duchossois Center for Advanced Medicine (DCAM) near Room 1A.

Free services provided by the Center include:

- Information and literature on cancer related topics:
 - Treatment and side effects
 - Survivorship and living with cancer
 - Clinical trials
 - Prevention, nutrition and screening
- Help finding transportation and discount lodging
- Counseling and one-to-one pairings with cancer survivors
- Support groups for patients and caregivers
- Assistance with social security and disability issues
- Advice about financial grants

All programs and services are made available through the American Cancer Society and the University of Chicago Cancer Research Center and the generosity of their supporters and volunteers.
